Everet Hauck Shot and Killed While Hunting

Everett C. Hauck, 22 years old, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Hauck of Joliet and well known to Mokena folks, met a tragic death while duck hunting near Chillicothe, Ill., Sunday afternoon.

Hauck was killed when a shot gun in the hands of Peter Jebson of Chicago, was accidentally discharged. The charge struck Hauck in the left breast and died an hour afterward.

According to the story told by the victim's companions, Jebson was unloading his gun when the accident occurred.

Hauck was employed at the La Saile street railroad station in Chicago. Saturday night with three of his fellow employees, Jebson, Lawrence Larson and Stephen Noman, all of Chicago, Hauck left for Chillicothe on a duck hunting expedition.

The party had hunted for several hours before the shooting occurred. Hauck's body was taken into Chillicothe and then brought to Joliet Sunday night and removed to the undertaking rooms of Wunderlich, Harris & Sontag.

The funeral took place Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock from St. John's English Lutheran church at Joliet to Elmhurst cemetery.

Besides his parents the deceased is survived by two brothers, Sheldon and John, Jr.

Hauck was in Joliet Saturday to spend the day with his family. He was a graduate of the Joliet high school, a member of the class of 1920.

The deceased has quite a number of relatives and friends in and about Mokena. His mother was a former Mokena girl, her maiden name being Minnie Hacker. The many friends of Mr. and Mrs. Hauck deeply sympathize with them in their hour of tragic bereavement.

BACHELOR GROVE LUTH. CHURCH SCENE OF PRETTY WEDDING

A very pretty church wedding took place immediately after the morning services at the Trinity Lutheran church Bachelor's Grove, Sunday morning when Mr. Roderick H. C. Bothwell of Chicago and Miss Marie Rauch, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Rauch were united in marriage. The bride's brother, Henry Rauch, served as best man while the groom's sister, Miss Ellen Bothwell performed the duties of maid of honor. Other witnesses were Norman Bothwell and Henrietta Rauch. The Misses Dorothy Bothwell and Esther Kelber were flower girls and wee little Lillian Rauch was ringbearer.

The church was well filled and the entire congregation remained to witness the ceremony which was performed by the pastor, Rev. Wm. Greve. Mr. Paul Schaefer played appropriate wedding music.

After the ceremony the wedding guests were entertained at the home of the bride's parents. The young couple will make their home in Chicago.

Bandits Loot Illinois Banks of $326,452.50 from Jan. to Nov.

With the ever increasing lawless spirit on our highways and the ever increasing number of bank robberies it is high time that our state highways need and demand more efficient police protection. In a half page in this issue of the News-Bulletin from the State Police Auxiliary Committee of Chicago the astounding information is given that since last January up to this month 37 bank robberies have taken place in Illinois and the bank bandits have looted the banks of over a quarter of a million of dollars and in most instances have escaped due to lack of adequate highway police protection. Read the adv. regarding state highway police in this issue and act according to the request made in the adv.

The farmers of this vicinity are highly in favor of a state highway police service.

The News-Bulletin is the first paper in the State of Illinois to run the adv. referred to.

"THE DAY my boy is dead," she said to me,
"They caught him robbing railroad cars, an' he Must spend from five to seven years in jail.
His pa an' I had hoped so much for him.
He was so pretty as a little boy."
Her eyes with tears grew very wet an' dim—
"Now nothing that we've got can give us joy."

"What is that you own?" I questioned then.
"The house we live in," slowly
she replied;
"Two other houses worked and slaved for, when
The boy was but a youngster at my side.
Some bonds we took the time he went to war;
I've spent my strength against the want of age.
We've always had some end to struggle for;
Now shame and ruin smear the final page."

"His pa had been a steady-go-in'
man—
Worked day an' night an' over time as well—
He's lived and dreamed and sweated to his plan
To own the house and profit
should we sell;
He never drank nor played much
cards at night,
He's been a worker since our wedding day;
He's lived his life to what he knows is right—
An' why should son of his now go astray?"

I've rubbed my years away on scrubbing boards,
Washed floors for women that owned less than we;
An' while they played—the ladies and the lords—
We smiled and dreamed of happiness to be.
"And all this time where was the boy?" said I.
"Out somewhere playing!" Like a rifle shot
The thought went home. "My God!" she gave a cry,
"We paid too big a price for what we've got."

MOKENA CHURCH TO HONOR DEAD WITH MEMORIAL SERVICE

St. John's Evangelical Church, November 23, Memorial Sunday. Next Sunday is the last Sunday of the Church year. How appropriate, that this day with its solemn "Memento Muri" has been set aside to remember our departed friends who have preceded us on the path which sometime, we all will have to go. Their earthly remains now rest in their narrow chambers under the sod-grown hills of God's field where through the Lord's wondrous working, they will be changed into fitting resurrection bodies.

Morning Worship in American language at 10:30. Short German service immediately following.

Evening service 7:30. Subject: "I Believe in the Life Everlasting." A study of the revelation that Jesus makes about death and a future world. The choir will render a special selection at both morning and evening service.

Everyone is invited to enjoy our services.

Sunday School at 9:30 A. M.

Religious instruction on Saturday at 9:30 A. M. All children are welcome. The instructions are free.

Dairymen to Consider Vital Contract Clauses

On Tuesday evening, Nov. 25 at 8 o'clock the dairymen of the Mokena and Frankfort district will meet at the Frankfort hall for the purpose of discussing several matters of great importance to the dairymen of this district. It is rumored that contracts providing for the sale of milk during next year will be presented for the dairymen's signatures at an early date and that this contract contains clauses which the dairymen should consider as an association unit instead of each man for himself. All the dairy farmers are urged to attend this meeting.

GOLDEN RULE SUNDAY TO BE OBSERVED DEC. 7

Twenty-four Nations, (including the United States) will observe Sunday Dec. 7 as Golden Rule Day as a reminder of the urgent need of continued contributions for the feeding of two and a half million orphans and refugees in Persia, Armenia, Syria, Anatolia, Turkey and Greece.

International Golden Rule Sunday is a test of our religion and our sincerity—a day for measuring our lives by the universally accepted standard of life. A day of plain living and high thinking and on that day all persons who believe in the Golden Rule are asked, by way of remembrance, to partake of a simple meal and then, as a practical demonstration, decide on an offering to help keep alive, shelter and train the many thousands of children under American care in the Bible lands.

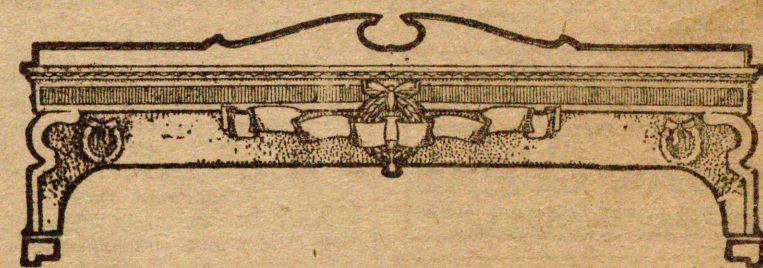

It is the occasion, in the words of President Coolidge, "to serve it to bring to the minds of those who are prosperous, the charitable requirements of those who are in adversity."

On December 7, the Golden Rule citizens of the world will be seated, figuratively, at the same table, partaking of the same food, thinking the same thoughts and entering into realization of the brotherhood of mankind.

These children of the Near East are international wards. They are the lawful legacy of the world war. They simply want a chance to live and we must continue the task of making that possible for the sake of world peace in the future. These children will be the leaders of the Near East of to-morrow and American ideals they will make a better world and we serve peace in what is now the gue spot of the universe.

Get rid of constipation by internal cleanliness

H EADACHES, biliousness, sleepless nights, heaviness, are Nature's warning that intestinal poisons are flooding your system. If this is allowed to continue, you may become a victim of serious organic disease.

Laxatives and cathartics do not overcome constipation, says a noted authority, but by their continued use tend only to aggravate the condition and often lead to permanent injury.

Why Physicians Favour Lubrication

Medical science has found at last in Lubrication a means of overcoming constipation. The gentle lubricant, Nujol, penetrates and softens the hard food waste and thus hastens its passage through and out of the body. Thus, Nujol brings internal cleanliness.

Nujol is used in leading hospitals and is prescribed by physicians throughout the world. Nujol is not a medicine or laxative and cannot gripe. Like pure water, it is harmless.

Take Nujol regularly and adopt this habit of internal cleanliness. For sale by all druggists.

Lesson for November 23

THE TRANSFIGURATION

LESSON TEXT—Luke 9:28-36.
GOLDEN TEXT—This is my beloved Son; hear Him.—Luke 9:35.
PRIMARY TOPIC—Jesus Shows His Glory.
JUNIOR TOPIC—Beholding Christ's Glory.
INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—The Glory of Jesus Christ.
YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—The Transfiguration a Preparation for the Cross.

While it is true that in this lesson the disciples are witnesses of Christ's glory, the full truth is that the manifestation of Christ in glory was to give to the discouraged disciples a foretaste of the Messianic Kingdom. The hopes of the disciples were crushed when Christ announced His death on the cross. They were unable to see how victory could issue from death.

Jesus took with Him Peter, James and John and went into the mountain to pray. His chief aim in retirement was to get the disciples apart and into a state of receptivity so that He might show them the method of the kingdom. Before going to the mountain He declared that there were some standing in His presence who would not taste of death till they should see the Son of Man coming in His kingdom (Luke 9:27; Matt. 16:28). That their drooping spirits might be revived and their confidence restored, He is transfigured before them. Two men from the upper world are sent to converse with Him about his approaching death in Jerusalem (v. 31)—the very thing about which the disciples refused to talk. Then, too, God's own voice was heard in words of approval of Christ's course, directing them to hear the Master. Surely they cannot doubt His ability now to carry into execution His kingdom plans. The purpose, then, of the transfiguration is to give the disciples a foretaste of the coming kingdom, to enable them to see the kingdom in embryo. That this is true is not only shown by the context and circumstances, but by the inspired interpretation of one who was with Him and knew all that transpired (II Peter 1:16-19 R. V.). Note the outstanding features of the kingdom as displayed in the transfiguration:

I. Jesus Christ the Glorified King on Mt. Zion (v. 29).

The glorified king on this mount was intended to symbolize the Messianic kingdom when Christ returns to the Mount of Olives in Jerusalem (Zech. 14:4-7). This is still in the future, and will be literally fulfilled.

II. The Glorified Saints With Christ (vv. 30-31).

(1) Moses, who was once denied an entrance into Palestine, appears now in glory, representing the redeemed of the Lord who shall pass through death into the kingdom. Many thousands of the redeemed have fallen asleep and at the coming of the Lord shall be awakened to pass into the kingdom.

(2) Elijah, now glorified, represents the redeemed who shall pass into the kingdom through translation. Many shall be living upon the earth when the Lord shall come, and shall without dying be changed, and thus pass into the kingdom (I Cor. 15:50-53; I Thess. 4:14-18).

(3) They talk of the very thing which the disciples refused to believe, namely, the death of Christ.

III. Israel, in the Flesh, in Connection With the Kingdom, Represented by Peter, James and John (v. 28).

Israel shall be called from their hiding place among all nations of the earth and shall be gathered to Jesus Christ the King, as the central people in the kingdom (Ezek. 37:21-27).

(1) Peter proposes to build three tabernacles (v. 33). The Feast of Tabernacles looked forward to the glorious reign of Christ. Peter caught a glimpse of the significance of the transfiguration. His proposition showed that he thought of the Feast of Tabernacles, and therefore of the Millennium.

(2) The divine voice (v. 35). At this time God Himself uttered His words, assuring them that this One in glory was His Son Jesus Christ.

IV. The Multitude at the Foot of the Mountain (vv. 37-43).

This is representative of the nations which shall be brought into the kingdom which shall be established over Israel. See Isaiah 11:10-12. The people here were grievously oppressed by the devil. About the time of Christ's first coming he did his best to harass men. Just before Christ's coming again he will be especially active, for he knows that his time is short.

ALONG LIFE'S TRAIL

By THOMAS A. CLARK

Dean of Men, University of Illinois.

PURPOSE

"AND Daniel purposed in his heart that he would not defile himself by eating the king's meat," the story goes, and Daniel was a strong, healthy young fellow who no doubt would have enjoyed a good steak as well as anyone. It was not that he liked spinach and dandelion greens so much, that kept him religiously to pulse, but because he was determined to do what he had been taught was right, what he knew was his duty. When Daniel made up his mind that a thing was right or his duty to do he went ahead in the execution of his purpose even if the path he was following led him into the lion's den.

The trouble with a good many people has been and is now that they have no special and definite purpose. Obligation rests on them lightly; duty has a strange and unfamiliar sound in their ears; purpose is a thing with which they have never had much intimate connection. Present comfort and pleasure concerns them most. Sometimes men seem to have a purpose, but it apparently does not get as far as their hearts.

Wetherill was not that sort. When in knickerbockers he was running about the dirty mining town in which his father worked he was determined to have an education.

He got himself through high school—a very poor high school it was, too—by selling newspapers at first and doing odd jobs about the mine. After he was fifteen he did a man's work in the mine, though he was not a husky boy. He got into college by examination—not the easiest method as things are done these days. He had no friends, he had no money, he had no special talents excepting a willingness to work at anything, honesty, and a determined purpose to fight his way through.

He was often discouraged, for he was only sixteen, and he knew very little of the world. He confesses now that sometimes at night when the lights were out and he was hungry and tired, his pillow was wet with tears. But his purpose triumphed; he fought it out, he made friends, he won the respect of everyone who knew him, and he got a better job, and he made every honor society to which he was eligible.

That was a good many years ago and Wetherill is head of a big, prosperous corporation today.

"What a fortunate fellow Wetherill is," one of his friends said to me not long ago. "See his salary, wide influence. Some fellows seem to be born lucky."

"You're right," I answered. "Any one is lucky who, like Wetherill, when he is young develops a definite purpose and has the courage and the determination to carry it through."

HAPPINESS

UNTIL he was forty a neighbor of mine lived a happy, active, useful life. He had a good job, at which he earned a salary sufficient to support his family comfortably. He was interested in community affairs, he was a useful citizen, he was enthusiastic over paying for the pretty house he had built, and his future seemed bright and satisfying.

Then, unfortunately, his aunt died and left him $50,000. He gave up his job immediately, quit work and set out to enjoy himself. The income from his legacy was scarcely as much as his salary had previously been, and as his leisure increased his desires multiplied quite disproportionately. He became discontented, nomadic, a lazy, useless citizen, who is happy nowhere. He spends his winters in Florida and his summers camping out in the woods or drifting up and down the river in a motorboat. He is bringing up his two boys to be unhappy loafers like himself. But he is a pathetic figure. He has not learned the lesson that there is no real happiness without work. The most unhappy, discontented people I have ever known are those who have money enough to live on without following any regular daily occupation, and who put in their time looking for pleasure. The woman who has no occupation but bridge whist is a miserable creature, and the man who is trying to pay his obligations to the world by playing golf or billiards is an unhappy, discontented grouch. The most wretched men in the world are those who give up work before they are compelled to do so.

Sometimes when the days are hot and long and the tasks are hard and life seems too full of duties for us to fulfill them all, we might be helped if we stopped long enough to realize that real happiness is always synonymous with work. It is the hard job, the difficult and often the disagreeable task that brings us joy in the accomplishment.

The greatest blessing that God ever bestowed upon fallen man was the privilege of earning his bread by the sweat of his brow. It was the best possible substitute for paradise.

EVERY time a purchaser leaves our store,
having bought an ATWATER KENT

How far we have succeeded in winning our customers' confidence can be judged by the fact that every ATWATER KENT set bought from us has stayed sold—and

Good
Printing

THE kind of printing that pays dividends is the kind you should have. Pale, muddy, poorly arranged printed matter is worse than none. The quality of your business is often judged by the quality of your stationery. — inferior printing gives an impression of cheapness that is hard to overcome, while good printing carries with it a desirable suggestion of quality.

We produce only Quality Printing. Whether you want an inexpensive handbill or a letterhead in colors, if you order it from us you will be sure of getting good work. We have the equipment and the "know how" that enables us to get out really good printing—printing that impresses people with the good taste of its users. That is the only kind of printing that

STRAIGHT TALKS WITH AUNT EMMY

ON NOT GETTING FLATTERED

"Somehow, Aunt Emmy, it scares me when I read of all the ways people lose their money in fake stock and bond transactions. How can you know who is honest and what stocks and bonds are safe to buy?" queried Jane.

"It is easy enough if people only wouldn't be so impatient," replied Aunt Emmy. "There is never any need for haste in investing. It's far better to take a little time to find out the character of the securities offered and of the person offering them. The buying of securities was greatly stimulated by the Liberty Loans. Before Uncle Sam offered Liberty bonds only about 300,000 people in the United States owned securities. Now millions of people are buying stocks and bonds."

"Of course the unscrupulous security vendors have taken advantage of the public's new education in investments. All sorts of bad and questionable securities are being offered for sale. Naturally the majority of the people are not rich, so when a man sets out to sell bonds or stocks through the country he must be prepared to sell in small quantities. 'Baby bonds,' $100 bonds, that is, are popular. If the baby bonds are sound they are as good an investment as any. But before you buy bonds of any kind get good advice."

"Be especially careful about doorstep salesmen. A bond house that floods the country with salesmen is put to great expense. They can't send salesmen all over the United States for nothing, so when a salesman comes to sell you bonds it is important to investigate the quality of the bond he is selling. Your bank will give information about investment houses and investments, and if you follow the bank's advice you will not lose your money."

"Another thing to be looked upon with suspicion," continued Aunt Emmy, "is the man who tries to sell you securities over the telephone. Such men will call up some woman living in the country and say they are calling at the suggestion of a friend."

They suggest that she buy such and such a bond that is selling at such and such a price. They ask the woman to hold the wire a moment, then say the price of the bond has gone up a point. Of course these men always call on the long distance phone from some large city. Poor little Mrs. Backwoods is so thrilled at this touch with the great world of finance that she buys the bond, only to find out her error later. It's a safe bet that she wouldn't buy sheets and pillow cases over the phone from a perfect stranger, but bonds, yes!"

"I see, Auntie," said Jane, "you should always know whom you're dealing with and not get excited and rush into anything just because it sounds flattering and thrilling."

"Exactly," said Aunt Emmy. — Anne B. Aymes.

ADVOCATE SEED CORN TEST

The Iowa Bankers Association sent out a bulletin to its members urging the bankers to have the farmer test his seed corn this year because of the heavy damage done to corn last year by dry rot. Enclosed was a letter from a farm crops man at Iowa State College explaining the situation. Germination tests on 32,000 ears of representative seed corn from all sections of the state showed that only about 80 per cent were fit for seed purposes, the rest being either weak or dead. "Dry rot is very prevalent in the seed corn this year and is responsible for the low vitality of a good deal of seed corn. In a great many cases ears may look bright and free from disease but kernels from these ears will show the presence of dry rot mold when germinating in the tester."

Above the Neck

It is ideas that count. What a man is worth below his neck is comparatively little. What he is worth above his neck is practically unlimited. Progress of all kinds is made because of the development of ideas.

Bankers Help

WILL COUNTY FAIR PROMOTING CALF CLUBS FOR BOYS AND GIRLS

The Will County fair association is promoting boys' and girls' calf clubs for the fair of 1925 to be held in Peotone in September.

There will be six clubs in all and the winners in each club will be awarded very substantial cash prizes. The amount of the prizes will be announced later. It will depend on the sum which the association is able to raise for this purpose.

Boys and girls between the ages of 8 and 12 will have three classes—Shorthorn, Hereford and Polled Angus—and they may choose which breed they prefer.

Credit will be given only for grade calves in each of the breeds specified. The Fair feels that it would not be fair to all the youngsters to compel them to compete with the few who might have registered calves.

Henry W. Deininger, president of the fair association has taken personal charge of the organization of the clubs. He is arranging with the banks of the county to loan the money for the purchase of a calf to any boy or girl who may wish to enter the contest.

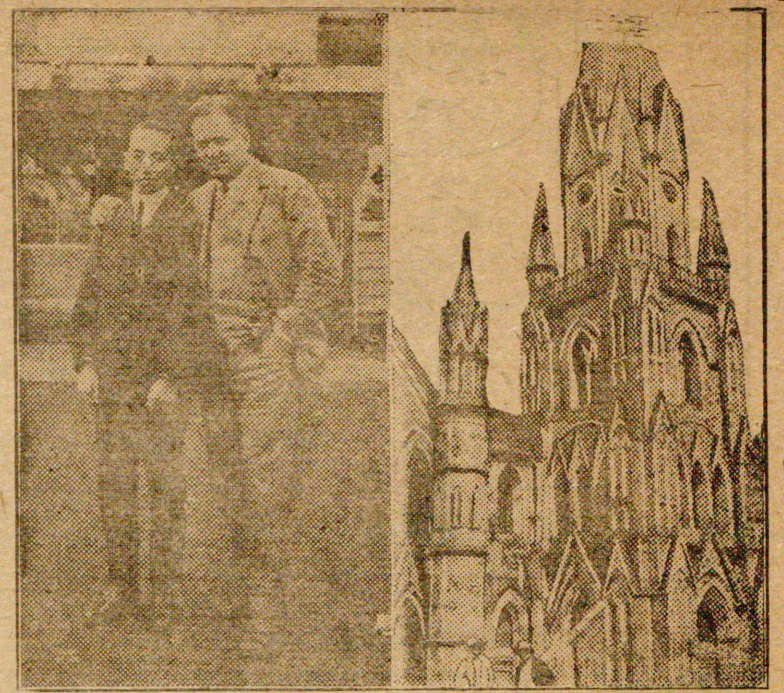

Boys and girls joining the clubs must agree to show their calves at the fair in Peotone next fall and also to sell them at the auction which will be held on the last day of the fair.

Every township in Will county ought to be represented in the clubs. The club memberships must be closed up in the next few days. All boys and girls wishing to join are urged to communicate with Henry W. Deininger, Peotone, Ill. before Monday Nov. 17. He will be glad to answer telephone calls. His phone is Peotone 88-J.

A. F. OF L. HITS ANTITRUST LAW

Federal Trade Board Also Assailed in Report to El Paso Labor Meet.

El Paso, Texas.—An attack on the federal trade commission and the whole theory of legislation directed against industry of the Sherman "antitrust" law and Clayton act type is included in the annual report which the executive council submitted to the American Federation of Labor at the opening session of the convention here.

The report declares the federal trade commission unfit for the performance of its duties and decries as futile the attempt to regulate industry by passing prohibitory legislation. The success of the Department of Commerce under Secretary Hoover in assuming a constructive leadership through the action of industrial groups points the better way, the council believes. The report refers to the department's work as a "constructive development in marked contrast to the repressive, wasteful policies of the federal trade commission."

Signed by Samuel Gompers as president and ten members of the executive council, the document is a resume of the federation's work during the year. In addition, it covers several projected activities of major importance to the affiliated unions.

The executive council again warns organized labor and its membership against the hasty formation of labor banks and calls attention to the need of the most careful investigation and survey of all conditions surrounding such ventures.

The organization and operation of banking institutions by trade unionists has continued to make progress during the year, according to the report. It is estimated that the total resources of labor banks in this country exceeded $60,000,000.

There are at present 23 labor banks in operation, the report revealed.

The average paid-up federation membership for the year was 2,865,979, the report of Frank Morrison said, against 2,926,468 for the previous year. The peak membership, in 1920, was 4,078,740.

The barge and a steamship from which it was taking on a cargo of gasoline were destroyed.

This is the third great fire on the Jersey waterfront in three days and suspicions of incendiarism are now believed entirely justified.

Pastor's Wife Dies in Furnace; Doubt Suicide

Columbus, Ohio.—Suicide was impossible in the case of Mrs. Addie Sheatsley, fifty, wife of Rev. C. V. Sheatsley, whose body was found burned to ashes in the furnace at her home here. German Railroads Are Turned Back
